THE TERRITORIAL REFORM SCHOOL.

This afternoon the corner stone of the Territorial Reform School will be laid at Benson, under the auspices of the Masonic grand lodge of Arizona and under the special direction of M. W. Grand Master John J. Sweeney. Invitations have been sent out and a notable gathering will assemble to participate in the initial movement in the building of another territorial institution. The general scheme of a Reform School for juvenile offenders is good. Properly conducted it tends to show the wayward youth the error of his way before he has become a hardened criminal. It provides a place of keeping apart from older criminals, who by their association, if confined in the state penitentiary, would have the opposite effect than that intended by the law. Reform schools are maintained in every state in the Union with marked success, and many a wayward boy has been brought to see the path of rectitude and virtue through the means of such an institution.

The Board of trustees who has charge of the erection of a suitable building is composed of C. F. Schumaker, of Tucson; H. Buehman, of Tucson; and H. Gerwein, of Benson. These names insure a careful and economical administration, a building that will represent every dollar of the appropriation.

Benson particularly, and Cochise County in general, is especially gratified over its selection for the location of the school, and the choosing of this railroad center, was a wise decision.

The building of the Reform school is a primary matter. Its management after completion is where splendid executive ability will be required, so that the cost of maintenance will not prove a burden on the taxpayer.

The Review still holds to the opinion that the bill passed by the Legislature establishing a Territorial Reform school, was ahead of the times; that arrangements could have been made with the state of California for the care of the Arizona juvenile offenders, at a much less cost than the equipment and maintenance of a separate Territorial institution.

The Legislature, which should represent the people, decided that the time had come for the establishing of a reform school in Arizona. The wisdom of their act remains to be seen.

THE death within a single month of three of the men who made the old-time minstrel shows famous serves as another reminder of the changed fashions in popular tastes for amusements. Playgoers of the younger generation can hardly appreciate what minstrelsy meant in the theatrical world of twenty years ago and how large a patronage it received from the general public. The "masseur" aggregations with their double ranks of singers in dress and burnt cork afforded infinite amusement to a large and intelligent clientele. The carefully prepared comedies which the "end man" presented to the "interlocutor" and the latter then repeated with well feigned curiosity to the end man again were cherished in memory by thousands, who took them home to try upon their friends.

ONE of the best ordinances passed by the city council yet is one requiring children under the age of twelve years to remain off of the streets after 9 p. m., unless they are in the performance of some useful occupation. Many a youth has formed bad habits which has lasted him through life by loitering about the streets after dark.

MARSHAL McCORD don't dare leave Washington until he has been confirmed by the senate, for fear the "knockers" will get in their work. No doubt the new marshal is very anxious to return to the territory, if for nothing more, to learn exactly "where he is at" in the newspaper world.

Ex-Governor Hogg, of Texas, has refused to wear knee breeches in order to be permitted to bow to King Edward. Mr. Hogg says he is afraid he wouldn't look well with his calves exposed, and people who have gazed upon his dimensions are likely to agree that his fear is well grounded.

KING MENELIK of Abyssinia wants to visit the St. Louis exposition. Come on, king. We're getting so used to entertaining royalty that we'll know how to give you the time of your life. And the bonds between this country and Abyssinia need strengthening anyway.

CANDIDATES for city offices are keeping under cover. So far we have heard of but one candidate and that was for the office of city marshal. The election occurs on the first Monday in April, the 7th prox.

A CHICAGO newspaper has the following just after the visit of Prince

Henry: Good morning. Do you suppose the prince would recognize you again if he saw you?

Does the Southern Pacific intend to "go away back and sit down" and allow new railway lines to take away all the desirable hauling in Southern Arizona? We can hardly believe it.

THE REVIEW expects to install a standard Linotype machine during the coming week which will enable the paper to furnish its readers increased news service.
